Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight!
Make me a child again just for tonight.

UPON my arrival the faculty welcomed me most cordially; and since then the gracious spirit of friendliness that was manifested at that delightful tea has been strengthened. This spirit of co-operation has resulted in a unified group with one aim—to install high ideals, right attitudes toward life, and social understandings in the student body.

The students, too, by their visits to me, their smiling "Good mornings," the confidences they have placed in me, the trust they have manifested towards me, the efforts they have exerted in attaining scholastic achievement, have made this first year at Foreman happy for me and, I hope, profitable for them.

From time to time, throughout the year the good news of scholarship awards, implying high educational attainments, have occasioned great rejoicings. Our students have been awarded prizes in English, Art, and other contests, both educational and civic. The work in every department is excellent and altogether the tenor of Foreman is indicative of physical, mental, moral, social, and spiritual development.

To each of you I extend best wishes for success in whatever you choose as your life's work. May the accumulation of the many fine things at Foreman help you to realize your fondest hopes.

HARRY P. McHALE

Our photographer caught Mr. Harry P. McHale, assistant principal beloved by faculty and student body alike, in a typical friendly mood. The twinkle in his eye, the hearty laugh, the merry tune he may be humming (and he is no Johnny one note!), the sprightly step, the brilliant sally in breezy repartee, the sense of humor, and, above all, his fairness and kindness have won the confidence and affection of Foremanites. During the past four years four principals have presided at Foreman, but fortunately for us, Mr. McHale has remained at his post. All his actions and decisions are guided by his slogan, "For the good of the school." And what a school!

Miss Ryan

Mrs. Burke

Miss Steinmetz

Miss Costello

To the three cheerful and capable secretaries, Miss Margaret Ryan, Mrs. Helen Burke, and Miss Jeannette Steinmetz, falls the task of handling correspondence, programs, records, reports and more reports. Miss Cecilia Costello and Mr. Clarence Ranseen enforce better attendance; Miss Helen Hart is Registrar, and that bespeaks efficiency.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department is our ballast and mainstay. Without them, thought and idea would be inarticulate. To them is allotted the arduous task of winning scholastic awards, including public speaking and essay contests. And their record is most meritorious! Student life is greatly enriched by Public Speaking, Drama, The Foreman News and The Foremanual, thanks to the efforts and ability of our English teachers.

LANGUAGE, HISTORY, PERSONNEL

All Foremanites anticipate the Language assembly. Need we say more?

Ah, Miss Daniels and your corps, how weary you are re-making the map of Europe. And how sad you are at this greatest man-made catastrophe. We rejoice with you, nevertheless, that the UNITED STATES is the God-send to DEMOCRACY!

The Personnel Department registers its work on indelible records and they appraise us for what we are—supernormal, normal, sub-normal, or lazy!

SCIENCE AND MATH

The Science Department, ever popular with live students, covers itself with glory. Space, and space only, prevents our paying tribute to the illustrious Mr. Keating and Mr. Mouw; but we do want to record the fine work accomplished by Miss Kelly's Beto Club and Mrs. Jerome's Projectors' Club. The boys who have charge of class educational movies contribute to scholarship.

The Math Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Silverman, is an asset!

ARTS, MUSIC AND PHYSICAL CULTURE

The Arts have distinguished themselves with their clever posters heralding coming events and with the beautiful parchment window. Cooking classes have satisfied our hunger; sewing, our vanity.

Just an old tradition—music continues to be rated "excellent!"

The girls' section and the football pictorial pages depict our outstanding pride this year. Thanks, Miss Lagorio and Mr. Maloff.

And the R.O.T.C.? Look them over and agree with us—sturdy, stalwart, snappy. Alert!!!

JANUARY PROM

One hundred and fifty couples swayed to the music of Perry Kenzie's orchestra at the "Snowflake Prom," held January 12th at the Graemere Hotel. In between dances girls admired the heart-shaped pearl bracelets which they had received as favors, while their escorts hopefully patted smart new billfolds. The high spot of the evening was the grand march led by class president Walter Suchow and Mable Badenoch. Beautiful gowns and flowers, a festive atmosphere and sweet music—all these combined to make this the great social climax of four busy years.

FOREMAN LOYALTY SONG

(Tune: Notre Dame Loyalty)

Cheer, Cheer for our Foreman High!
Proudly we claim her
Shout to the sky.
Foremanites are loyal too
True to their colors
Gold and Blue.
Our Alma Mater's best in the north.
Winning more victories,
We sally forth.
Ever in our hearts repeating,
"Onward for Foreman High!"

FOREMAN PEP SONG

(Tune: On Wisconsin)

Good old Foreman!
Dear old Foreman!
Lead us on to fame.
Loyal spirit ever cheer you
Strive to win each game! F. H. S.
Colors glorious!
E'er victorious!
Hail the Gold and Blue!
We'll back you in your aim.
Be ev-er true!

FOREMAN VICTORY SONG

Foreman, Oh, Foreman,
We're loyal, strong and true,
Foreman, Oh, Foreman,
We're proud to root for you.
Fighting your battles,
We hail the Gold and Blue,
Cheering each vic-try that's yours.
(Yeah! Team! Rah!)

Foreman, dear Foreman,
Our Alma Mater true,
Help us to gain strength anew.
When we see your colors bright,
Give us courage strong and right.
Oh, Foreman, we sing to you.

APPRECIATION

Miss Catherine Ryan, our glamorous principal, and Mr. Harry McHale, assistant principal and boon friend of The Foremanual, have given us such generous counsel and aid that The Foremanual staff desires to gratefully record their services.

Mis Muriel MacKay and her public speaking classes enthusiastically undertook, for the third consecutive year, to increase Foremanual sales. Although we have four hundred fewer students, due to the opening of Taft, we enrolled one hundred and twenty-eight new subscribers, thanks to public speaking classes and their coach. And we do mean Thanks!

Mr. Leslie Larsen, Miss Muriel MacKay, Miss Dorothy Keefe, Miss Clara Lawin, Miss Stella Coesfeld, Mr. Leonard Sollo, and Miss Lillian Sheehy win our appreciation for their efforts in securing division pictures.

Mrs. Rose Weiss is presented with an orchid not only for her financial support of the drama section, but also for donating the receipts of a matinee performance of "Almost Eighteen" to the football team.

Miss Lucy Daniels wins our undying affection for her understanding and encouragement at all times.

THE FOREMANUAL

We are proud of the Foremanual staff for they worked with zeal and harmony.

They spent many pleasant hours together in planning and working on the annual; taking pictures, getting ads and increasing sales. As a result thereof, the individual pictures of undergraduates have been discarded and division group pictures made their appearance. The 1940 Foremanual has a more varied and artistic arrangement of pictures. Sales have leaped to thirteen hundred and thirty, despite the transfer of more than four hundred students to the new Taft High School. Foreman had the highest percentage of sales in any Chicago high school, an enviable record!

FOREMANUAL STAFF

Every member of the staff deserves credit, but top honors are awarded to June Connelley (editorial), Helen Ness (write-ups), and Wilbur Reihl (advertising), for their initiative, dependability and poise. They were ready, willing, and able at all times.

The room representatives covered themselves with glory in their enthusiasm for sales.

Before we bid you adieu, we welcome cordially Miss Veda Stern, our new faculty adviser, and her staff. Miss Stern's interest and ability foretell a successful 1941 annual.

Good luck, and good bye!

FOREMAN NEWS

With sincere regret Foremanites learned of the resignation of Miss Lilyan Herzer as sponsor of the Foreman News. Four years ago Miss Herzer began its publication and by her ingenuity added zest to the paper with feature columns, sport sidelights, cartoons, as well as the customary news writeups and editorials. A careful examination and comparison of Chicago high school papers prompted Superintendent William H. Johnson to write, "Your work with the paper is a credit to you and to your school. Up to date in matter and form, the FOREMAN NEWS may safely be declared outstanding among Chicago school publications. Congratulations, Miss Herzer, upon the quality of the periodical which you sponsor. I know that such fine results have not been accomplished without a great deal of hard work."

Miss Katharyne Wendt is the new faculty adviser and her experience and ability augurs well for the future of the Foreman News. Jane Carrigan is Editor-in-Chief, ably assisted by Glen Buck and George Olson, together with a keen-eyed staff of reporters and feature writers. Mr. Warren Herringshaw, Business Manager, has pepped up the representatives which accounts for the increased number of subscribers.

LIBRARY

"Can you give me a detailed report on the philosopher's stone?" "How many women voted in 1930?" "I'd like a biography of Churchill, Reynaud, Hitler, etc." These unending questions are directed at Miss Fahey, our capable librarian, who has an amazing fund of knowledge. Presiding over one of the most efficient and well equipped high school libraries in Chicago, she is ably assisted by a staff of student helpers. With its large and discriminating variety of books, it is Foreman's fountain of knowledge.

MUSIC HATH

*Lorraine
Wagner*

Miss Nelson takes her position on the stage. The Girls' Glee Chorus stands before her. The baton is suddenly raised . . . everyone is attentive . . . then as the baton descends, sixty selected voices sing one of Strauss' songs, strains of "Tales From Vienna Woods," Lang's "Irish Love Song," or "The Chimes" by Debussy. Appearing in the annual Music Festival the Girls' Glee Chorus thrilled Foremanites with a number of beautiful selections. In addition to these choruses, the popular Girls' Trio offered several specialties. Recently the music classes purchased a Federal Recording Radio which produces vocal records of the choruses. Thus, the outstanding work of these groups may live forever. Foreman is justly proud of possessing an ambitious music department and a talented directress.

The Mixed Chorus

is one of Foreman's three outstanding vocal groups under the direction of Miss Myrtle Nelson. The repertoire of the chorus includes a number of beautiful selections including Franz Lehar's "Vilia" from "The Merry Widow," "By the Bend of the River" by Deis, and Schubert's "Serenade." Proclaimed by those who hear the group as possessing fine vocal qualities, the Mixed Chorus has taken great strides in achieving the finest at all times. It is continually being replenished with new members each semester. At present the chorus contains two-hundred fifty members. Just as the Girls' Glee Chorus and A Capella Choir, the Mixed Chorus, too, sang in the annual Music Festival. Assisting these choruses was a newly formed octet which made its debut on May 28 at the Music Festival.

All the Luck to you in the World.

A CAPELLA

Whenever you hear a melodious group performing at one of our assemblies, in all probability you are listening to the newly robed A Capella Choir, Foreman's selected group of forty-six spirited voices, which is directed by the talented Miss Myrtle Nelson. Included in the repertoire of the group are such brilliant songs as Grieg's "Great Angelic Host," "Lost in the Night," by Christiansen, and "Roll, Chariot," arranged by Nobel Cain. The group sings June 15 at the High School Studio Party.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Foreman's National Honor Society is the most exclusive organization in the school. Only the select few are admitted into the society. The club's requirements for admission are severe, but it is truly an honor to be a member of this group. Only 3A, 4B and 4A students possessing a high scholastic average may join. With Miss Costello as sponsor, the Foreman chapter is under the direction of Alfred Roth, President; William Bright, Vice-President; Gladys Larsen, Secretary; and Janina Luczak, Treasurer.

GULGNOL

FRENCH CLUB

The highlight of the French Club's activities this year included the construction of a puppet theater and the creation of puppets. The puppets are used in various comedies that are staged in this miniature theater.

Of course, the French Club did not forget its two outstanding events of the year . . . the Christmas Party and the May Picnic.

Sponsored by Miss Coesfeld, the officers of the club include Libby Giambrone, President; Vincent Wilson, Vice-President; Shirley Reiner, Secretary; Charlotte Oray, Treasurer.

1940 has been a particularly good year for the French Club.

LATIN CLUB

Radio fans are not the only ones who take delight in hearing Professor Quiz, for the professor frequently visits the Latin Club. And when he is not present, club members take active part in contests and plays. Each member anxiously awaits the annual picnic. Other events, too, make this club a popular one. Officials are: Howard Sitka and Shirley Williamson, Consuls; Dolores Koch, Quaestor; Shirley Tull, Scribe; Orville Mix and Edward Macoicz, Lictors.

GERMAN CLUB

A few years ago the German Club was organized by Foremanites engaged in the study of German, in order to acquaint them with Teutonic culture. German "Gemutlichkeit" reigns at each of the monthly meetings. Teutonic songs, dances and games comprise their activities. In summer the sponsors, Miss Lawin and Miss Kinderman, along with the club members, go a-hiking. Froehlichen Zeiten? Jawohl!

POLISH CLUB

The Foreman Polish Club is another group dedicated to the study and appreciation of old world culture. In this instance, songs, classics, plays, and dances of Poland are the objects of enjoyment. Miss Jasinski, the club sponsor, has worked diligently to make the club a success. The group is made up of Foremanites of Polish background. At an April language assembly the club sang a delightful song rich in culture Polska. The group is affiliated with the Polish Students' Federation of Chicago. It has participated in several contests sponsored by the Federation. At present, the club numbers approximately forty students.

SAFETY COUNCIL

Devoted to the interests of safety, the Safety Council has endeavored to teach Foremanites to be "safety-minded" in a number of ways. Each division is represented in the council. The representatives are supplied from time to time with safety bulletins and material advocating safety measures. In turn, the representatives pass on safety information to their divisions. Assemblies depicting the need for safety have been a major part of the Safety Council's activities. Mr. Morrissey is the sponsor. The officers are James Schumacker, President; Len Decker, Vice-President; Lorraine Smith, Secretary, and Stella Maruniewski, Treasurer.

MISS COLLEGIATE

No production on Broadway was ever more enthusiastically received than was the inimitable Mrs. Weiss' production of Wilbur Braun's three-act comedy presented Senior Night, December 1. Not for one moment did interest lag in this romantic story of football heroes and beautiful co-eds. The characters, plot, and incidents involving tears, laughter and suspense, appealed to all. We offer an orchid to a splendid cast for an excellent performance which added one more social success to Foreman's calendar of brilliant events.

ALMOST EIGHTEEN

The Drama Class scored another hit on Senior Night, May 16th, with their presentation of "Almost Eighteen," a three-act comedy by Dana Thomas. This is one of the cleverest plays brought out in the last few seasons, a delightful combination of pathos and laughter, and served as wholesome entertainment. The young liked it for its portrayal of themselves; adults enjoyed it for their recapture of the time when love was young, hope was high, and the object of one's ambition attainable. Fine work, Mrs. Weiss!

On February 21, Esther Bates' patriotic play, "The Evacuation of Boston," was presented by senior members of the dramatic art classes. This colorful play of American Revolutionary days has as its central theme the heroism of a patriotic Daughter of Liberty, Prudence Lechmere and the chivalry of a British officer, Lieutenant Chisholm. These characters were portrayed by Dolores Meyer and Dick Kray.

BETO

Photosynthesis, chlorophyll, protoplasm, parasitism . . . these are but a few of the terms with which Beto members are acquainted. These terms play an important part in the work of this distinctive group. Whether the task is to determine the age of a Sugar Maple or to peer into the organs of a deceased copperhead, Beto members are keenly interested at all times. Because of this interest, the Beto Club meets twice each month. Members learn much on Beto field trips. Officers of the club include Edward Glienke, President; Betty Beesley, Vice-President; Mose Heimanson and Marie Eggert, Secretaries; Jewel Brossman, Treasurer; Miss Kelly, Sponsor.

PROJECTORS

Foreman is very proud and fortunate to have such a live group as the Projector Service Club. It is to this club that Foremanites turn whenever a boy, skilled in the use of a projector, is needed. Without this group, it is dubious that Foreman would be able to supplement studies with classroom movies as often as it does. Under the guidance of Mrs. Jerome, the club has grown to a membership of about twenty-five capable youths. Each member must pass an examination before he is qualified to operate a projector by himself. Officers are Will Bergstrom, President; Earl Dolan, Vice-President.

PERSONNEL CLUB

The Personnel Club, sponsored by Miss Marie Harkins, head of the Personnel Department, was organized for the purpose of assisting in the management of the Personnel Office. The work requires a high degree of accuracy; therefore, students of excellent standards are selected. Personnel members gain much experience in general office work. This experience is most valuable for future positions.

SERVICE

The aim of this organization is to afford Foremanites practical experience in office work. Approximately seventy students assist in the three school offices each day. Filing, indexing, mimeographing, typing . . . these are but a few duties of the Service Club. Miss Cooney directs the group. Muriel Arthars, President; Jeanette Friese, Vice-President; Clara Andreasen, Secretary; Dorothy Pehta, Treasurer.

STUDENT COUNCIL

In September, 1939, the C. I. C., Foreman's leading organization, was dissolved. Out of the dissolution grew a new organization, the Student Council. Mr. Ulveling was immediately placed in charge of the council.

Every Foremanite is considered a member of the Student Council. Each division room is represented by one delegate in the organization. Soon after the Student Council was created, it was divided into eleven separate units. Included among these units are the hall guards, the safety patrol, the ushers, and the clean-up group. In addition to the division room delegates, the Student Council is composed of one representative from each of the eleven units. At each meeting plans for improvement of the school are discussed. Elected by the entire student body were Rudolph Larson, President, and Betty Bergeson, Vice-President.

BAND

THE BAND

Tap . . . tap, goes Captain Reid's baton. Members of the band perk up immediately. All eyes are on the baton. Then . . . exhilarating music pours from the cornets, the piano, the trumpets and other instruments that make up Foreman's popular band. The band, in reality, consists of three bands: the beginners, the intermediates, and the advanced band. To be a member of the latter, a student must have had experience in the two former bands, and he must be a capable musician, for he is performing in Foreman's finest . . . The Advanced Band. The Foreman Band, just as the orchestra, enters musical contests. And it, too, is graded highly. The band also performed in the spring concert, and presented Boyer's overture. Foremanites are always eager to hear selections given by the band whenever it appears at a school assembly.

ORCHESTRA

Foreman is proud of the record its orchestra has established. In spite of the fact that Foreman's orchestra is not among the large school orchestras, it has been given coveted ratings in the annual contests in which it participates. This would be utterly impossible were it not for the strenuous efforts put forth by the boys and girls who comprise it, and were it not for the capable director of the group, Captain Guy Reid. When the orchestra is not busy preparing for a contest it is about to enter, it is sedulously providing appropriate music for assemblies, concerts, commencements, and plays. The group is constantly improving through the performance of a wide variety of excellent compositions. Bowing technic and uniform bowing are points that are incessantly stressed.

This spring the orchestra presented its annual concert in the school auditorium. A large audience acclaimed the concert as the finest ever presented.

GEOGRAPHIC CLUB

Colored movies of Mrs. Anderson's sojourn down South and Miss Keefe's vacation out West were treats enjoyed by the Geographic Club. Interesting discussions on foreign lands as well as our own country stimulate desires for travel. Mrs. Anderson is the sponsor. Elaine Mjoen, President; Bessie Sinadinos, Vice-President.

STENOGRAPHY

Organized in February, 1939, the Stenography Club attempts to broaden the scope of those students who have entered the commercial field. An important event of this semester was a talk by Mr. Howard Pfrommer, of the Pitman Publishing Company. Mrs. Mussehl sponsors the club, and Luella Wilkins is President.

A feature of this club is that it was organized by beginning stenography pupils which augurs well for their continued success and interest in their chosen field.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Parent Education through Youth was the 1939-1940 theme. The outstanding events were the Get-Acquainted Tea in October, Open House in November with Dr. William H. Johnson, our guest speaker; the Silver Tea and Book Review in February.

The P.T.A. felt that the social meetings of the students should be encouraged by providing a suitable room for these occasions. With the hearty co-operation of Miss Ryan and Mr. McHale this room has become a reality. As a lasting gift the P.T.A. equipped the Social Room with utensils and dishes, and established a revolving fund to replace broken dishes annually.

OFFICERS

Mrs. Arthur Robitschek, President; Mrs. Arthur Jacobsen, Vice-President; Mrs. Arnold E. W. Johnson, Second Vice-President; Mrs. Herbert Carlton, Secretary; Mrs. L. M. Hanna, Secretary; Mrs. Arthur N. Gulland, Treasurer; Mrs. Karl O. Schwerdtfeger, Auditor.

GOOD EAT

LUNCHROOM

Miss Cavoit is at the head of the lunchroom squadron. The unit is another of Foreman's year 'round clean-up squads. It is made up of ambitious Foremanites who are anxious to earn monogram award points and at the same time serve as an asset to their school. They not only enforce lunchroom manners but they cheerfully assume the task of maintaining cleanliness in the spacious lunchroom. Foreman is indeed fortunate in having this efficient group.

ROW 9: Geft, Carr, Born, Dworniczek, Donish, Lukas, Mrs. King.

COOKING CLASS

Was there, is there, or will there ever be anything more alluring than a good home-cooked meal? The cooking classes at Foreman are learning to prepare such a meal. The student is given the opportunity to plan the meals, set the table, serve the meal, and make her guests comfortable. Cleanliness, accuracy, ease in preparing the food, correct food combination, cost, and time are all factors taken into consideration when planning a meal.

FIRE MARSHALS AND USHERS

Mr. Morrissey's fire marshals are a valuable asset to any school. When fire drills arise the fire marshals assume charge. Likewise Foreman salutes the ushers. Under the guidance of Mr. Stadtler, the ushers efficiently direct students to their seats in times of assemblies.

CANDY SELLERS

"Candy . . . candy . . . Anyone wish any candy?" This is a familiar chant heard during the intermissions of Foreman's movies. It means that a regiment of candy sellers are descending upon the audience. And what a capable job they do perform!

CURRENT TRENDS CLUB

Will Germany win this war? Does communism pervade the United States? Should Roosevelt run for a third term? These questions and many more are being threshed out on the floor of the Current Trends Club.

The forum was organized in May, 1939, by a few interested students under the direction of the history department. The aim of the group is to afford open discussions on current topics. On April 22 of this year, the club was happy to announce that it had secured Mr. Leonard Aries, Chicago lawyer, as guest speaker for five consecutive weeks. Prior to the appearance of Mr. Aries, student speakers presented interesting discussions on world affairs at semi-monthly meetings. In addition to the members, the club invites more than twenty guests, selected by the history department, to each meeting.

The organization has steadily prospered under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jones. Officers are Steve Spinuzza, President; Frances Tontillo, Vice-President; Walter Ryan, Recording Secretary; Muriel Arthurs, Corresponding Secretary; Howard Stazak, Treasurer; and Robert Banzhaf, Publicity Chairman.

HALLGUARDS

Foreman's police, trustworthy, efficient, those terms describe the Hall- guards. Under the guidance of Mr. G. Mouw, faculty adviser, the Captains of the organization have developed a compact, hard-hitting unit. Tres- passers have long ago discovered this fact. Hall traffic between periods, paper scraps cluttering the corridors have been cut to a decided minimum, because of the conscientious efforts of the hallguard group. The up and down stairway system has improved remarkably since Foreman's guards were given orders to direct students to the proper stairways. Tardiness to class is another factor against which our hallguards have had to contend but with the co-operation of the faculty this blemish on Foreman's good name is rapidly being diminished. To show the entire school's appreciation of the fine work being accomplished by their organization, Foreman's ad- ministration "treated" the guards to cake and ice cream. Even a far greater amount of compensation, however, could not repay the hallguards for their services. Thus Foreman's hallguards stand as an example to all. In spite of many obstacles and hindrances, oftentimes even harsh rebuke, they have forged ahead and made their name one to be feared by "kippers" and their kind, but also a source of inspiration and courage for incoming freshmen and all conscientious.

Mary Lee Talbot*

STAMP CLUB

Whether it is a rare Columbian Exposition stamp or an exquisite print from Persia, the interest of Stamp Club members is extremely high at all times. Tremendous educational values are derived from this popular art. Members not only have the opportunity of enlarging their own collection, but they are encouraged to trade stamps with fellow members. Besides serving as an educational project, the group aims to create a friendly atmosphere between members through social meetings. Mrs. Talbot is the sponsor of this successful organization, and Karen Stoltenberg is President.

MATH CLUB

Now we arrive at the last but by no means least of Foreman's numerous clubs. Let's drop in on the Math Club. President Helen Pacilio is conducting the meeting.

Our next puzzle has been submitted by our secretary, Evelyn Spayer. After we have solved the brain-teaser, we shall hear a debate . . . "Should the farmer study mathematics?"

Following this interesting discussion, Robert Montgomery submits a treasury report. Mr. Silverman, sponsor, adds several comments, all of which makes the Math Club a popular organization.

THE CHEER LEADERS

"Foreman, Foreman, Rah, Rah, Rah!!!"

The cheer-leaders of Foreman High have played an active part in building up of school spirit. Their cheers ring out tirelessly at all the games of the season. The outstanding events in which they took part in this year were at Foreman's football games. The inexhaustible supply of energy poured forth, inspired much encouragement to the boys.

Mr. Kough, their sponsor, has helped the cheer-leaders in building up correct movement of the body and arms. Only students who are well adapted to such principles can be admitted to this energetic club.

BASEBALL

Baseball—our national pastime, is creditable to Foreman. The baseball team is one of the oldest and best developed of Foreman's organizations. Under the competent direction and guidance of Coach Zahorik the team has reached new heights. During the 1940 season they triumphed over such notable opponents as Austin, Steinmetz, Washburne, and Marshall, although they did meet defeat. The coach intimated that the losses were primarily due to errors and a weakness in fielding; however, the pitching staff rendered several remarkable performances. On one occasion they held Steinmetz to three hits, and on another allowed only one single. Russell Finn and Michael Ventrelli were outstanding performers on the mound. Chester Hrycyk won top honors as the most valuable player.

The Lettermen's Club is comprised of the peppiest athletes in Foreman. The outstanding leaders in all the boys' sports are lettermen. It takes plenty of zip to belong to this organization. The aim of the club is to promote a closer relationship between the various sports. Heading the 28 members are Andy Graczyk, President; Herbert Fugman, Vice-President; Eldon Born, Secretary; Russell Finn, Treasurer. The group is under the guidance of Mr. Maloff.

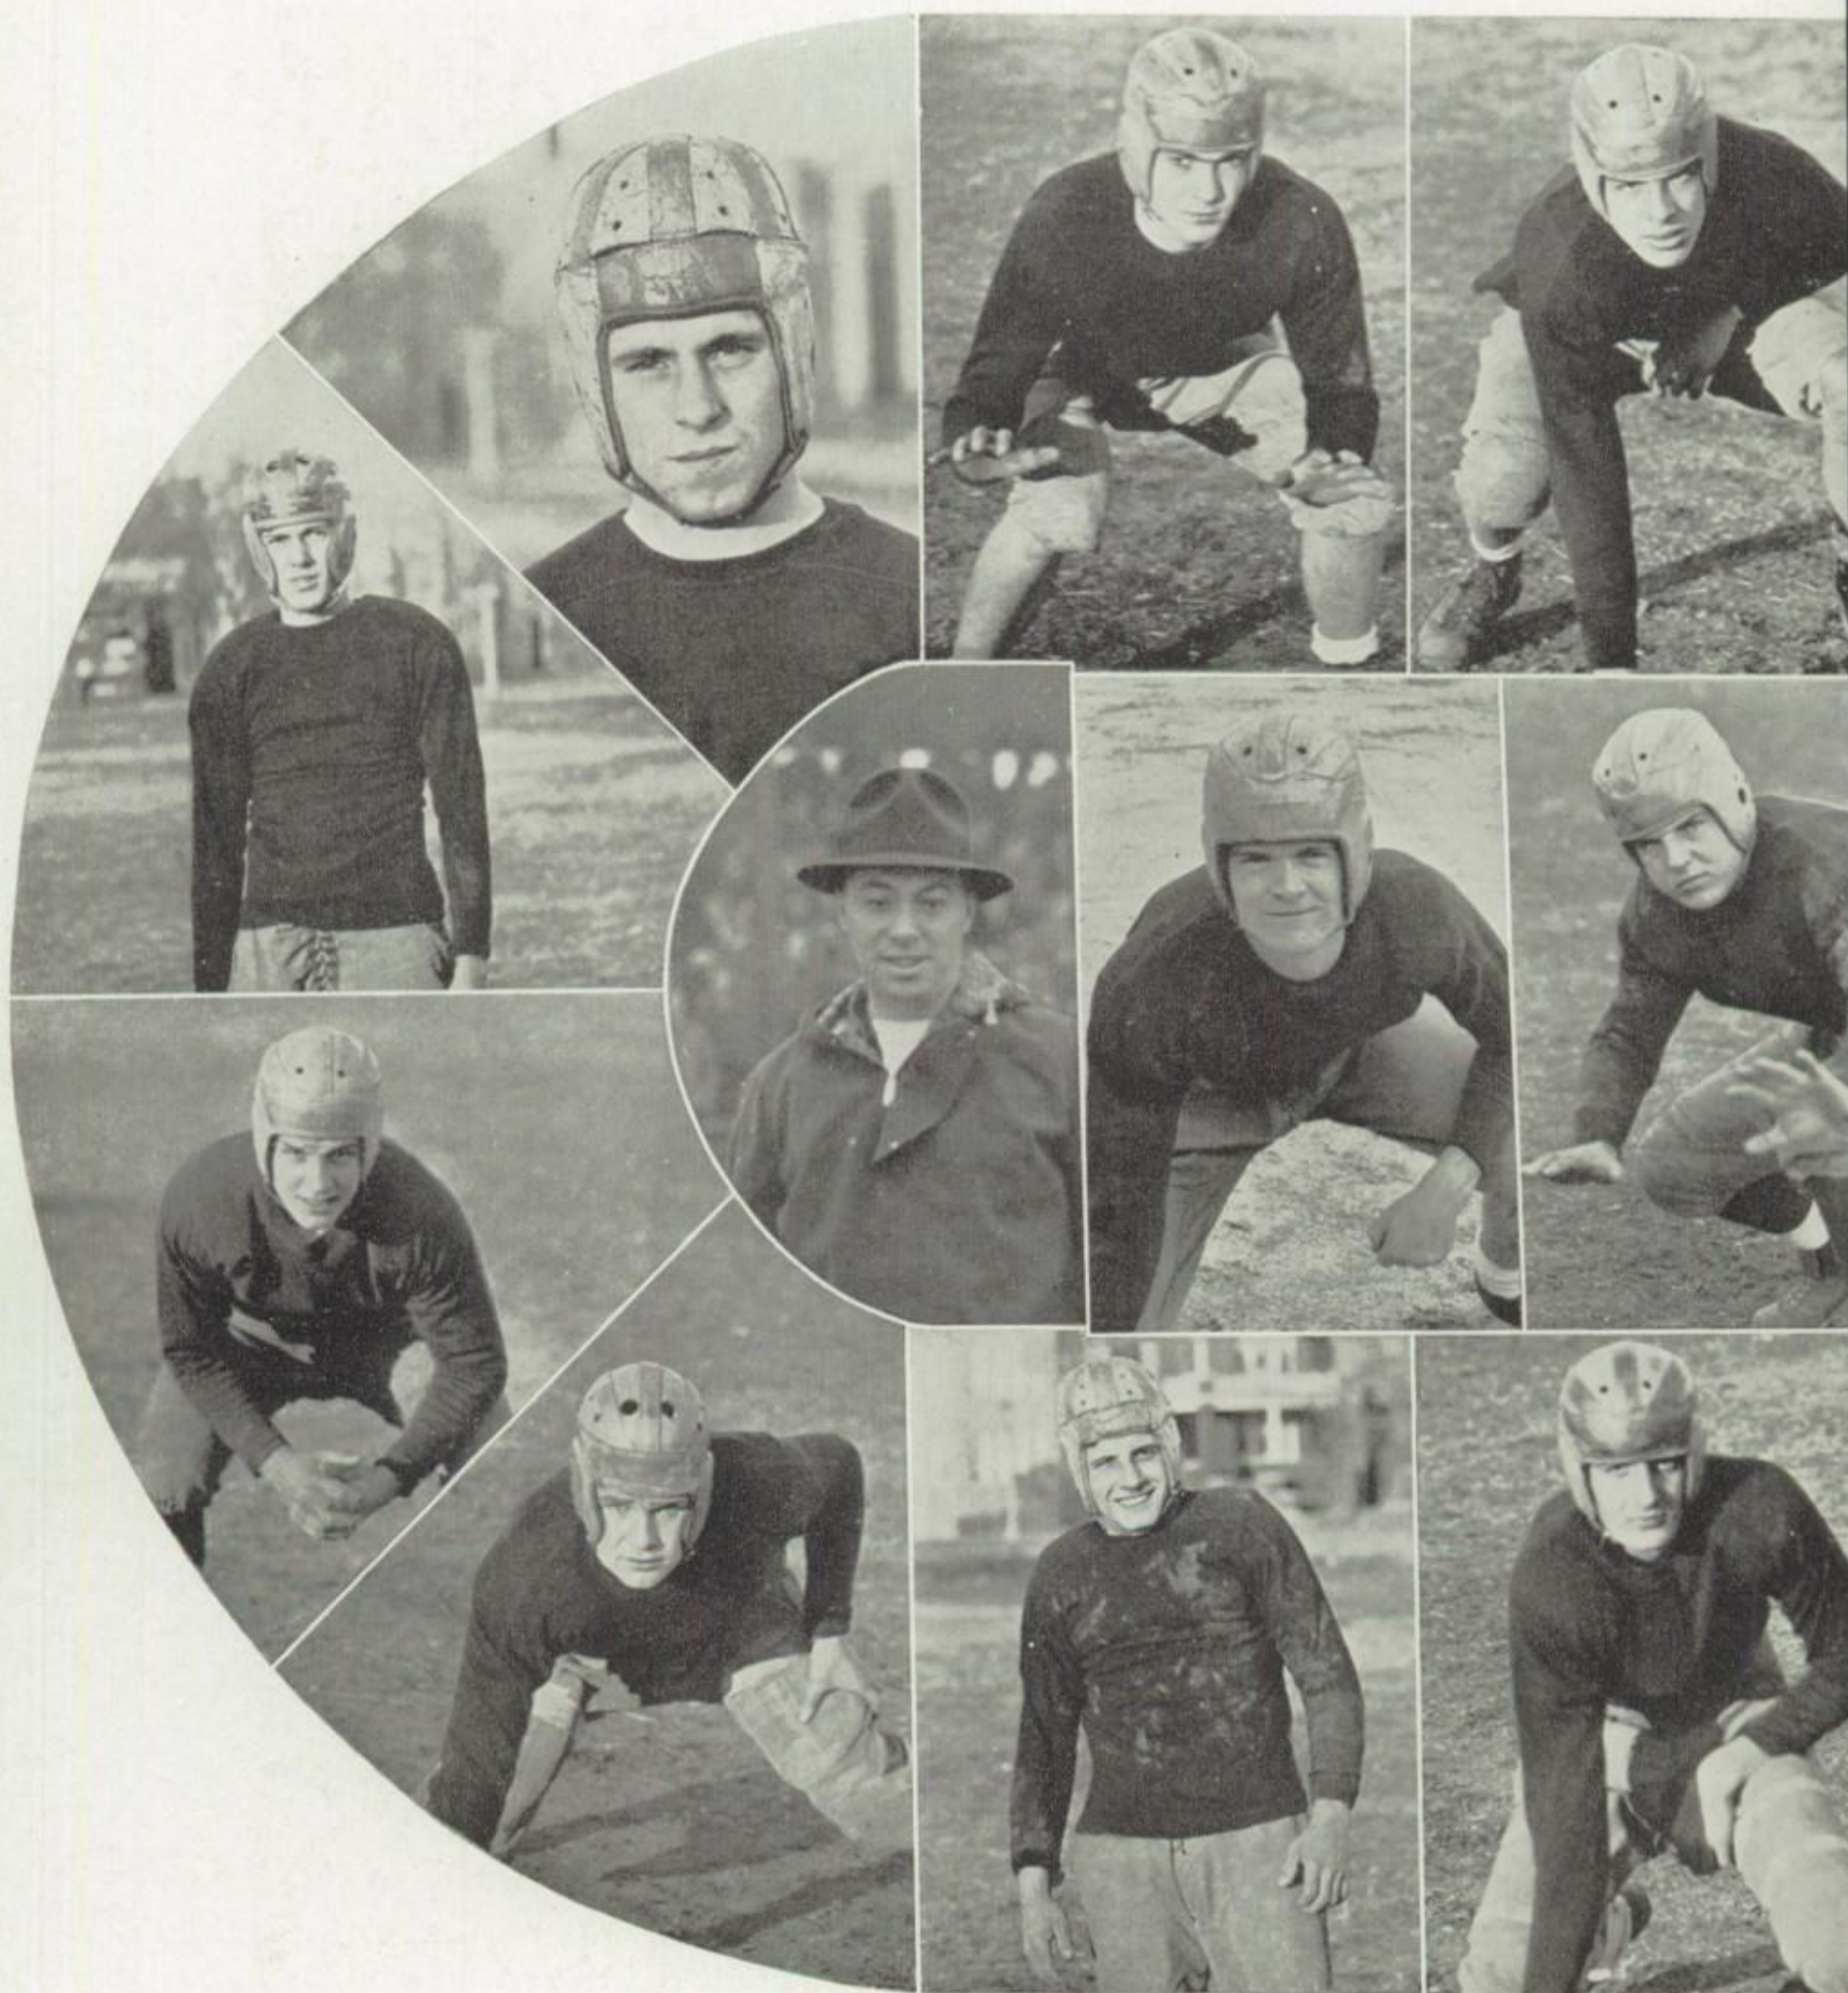

Once more the ball speeds down one of the new Goldammer's 20th Century alleys—then, a sudden rejoicing begins! Another strike has been made, and the Trojans, one of Foreman's teams, have won. The Snipes, who represent Foreman in interschool bowling, are equally successful. Foremanual readers are invited to see the girls' teams in action. Watch Dot Nast of the Crackpots knock 'em down. The other girls' team is under the exclusive title of the Quads. All teams are sponsored by Mr. Stadtler.

FOOTBALL

For a second time, Foreman had entered its bid for Football fame. A team was organized in 1933, but a dearth of material made it impossible to continue. Last fall in response to the pleas of the entire student body and faculty, football again became a major sport at Foreman. This second saw its first season of play under the direction of Coach Jack Maloff, in 1939. Coach Maloff took the untrained raw material and moulded it into a team that played exceptionally well for its first season. Injuries and bad breaks took their toll, but despite this the team carried on, and though they did not succeed in defeating any opponents, they did score their first touchdown. Throughout the entire season they enjoyed the whole-hearted support of Foreman's students. All sections of Foreman's student body turned out to cheer their warriors in blue and gold—from Miss Catherine Ryan, our beloved principal down to the lowliest freshman. As a business venture, the team proved to be an outstanding financial success, and as a result of the gate receipts new uniforms can be purchased for next season's players. Encouraged by the first season's showing, many more students with great promise tried out for a berth on the team, so everyone looks toward the 1940 season with anticipation and assurance of victory. Many of last year's football players remained with the team and together with new recruits they should be able to accomplish something worthy of note. It is perhaps only a matter of time before Foreman's name will be listed as city champions.

SWIMMING

Swimming is a major activity and is required by all freshmen and sophomores. Elective work is offered in life-saving and advanced swimming.

A graduated scale of skill tests provides opportunity for students to achieve success at each level of accomplishment.

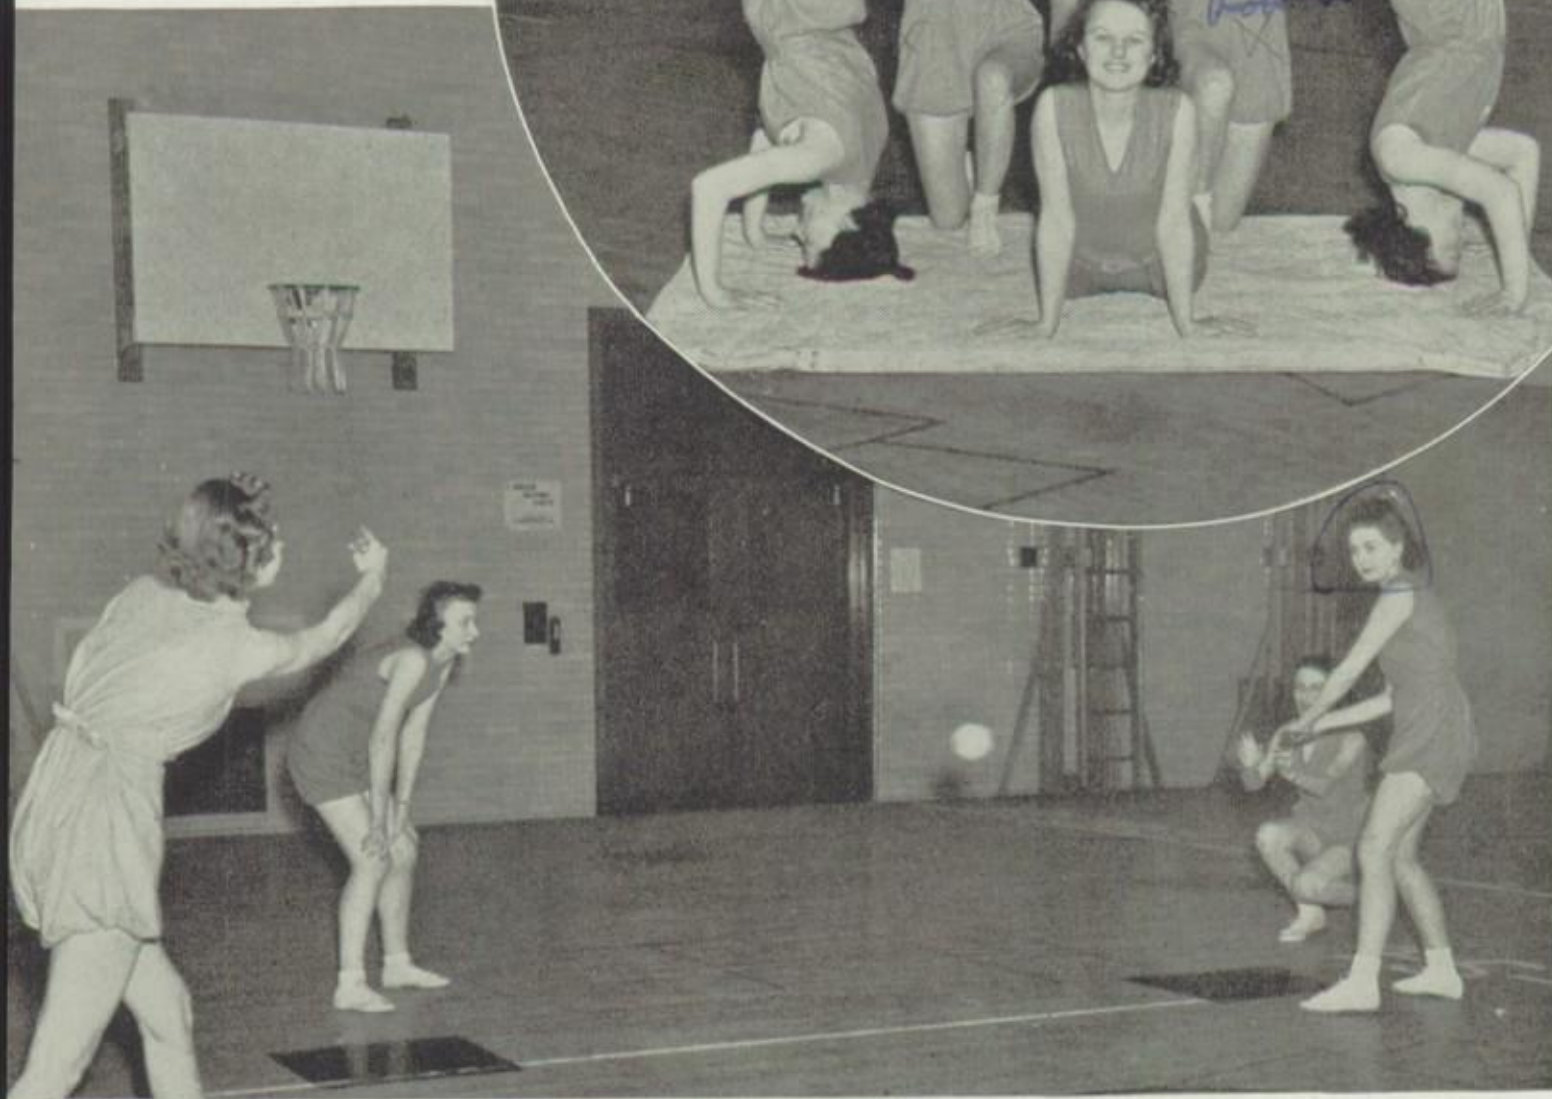

RECREATIONAL GAMES

Foreman gave a definite place on its program to co-educational recreational games this year. Classes as large as one hundred boys and girls enjoyed Badminton, Table Tennis, Bowling, Horseshoes, Darts and Shuffleboard during the noon period. Foreman students will utilize in the future recreational games for a well balanced life of work, play, and rest.

POSTURE, TUMBLING AND STUNTS

Posture classes are part of the regular gymnasium program. To attain correct posture is the aim of each student at Foreman. Apparatus, Tumbling, and Stunts are also taught. These activities aim to develop bodily control to produce the most economical use of body energy to insure good posture.

INTRA- MURALS

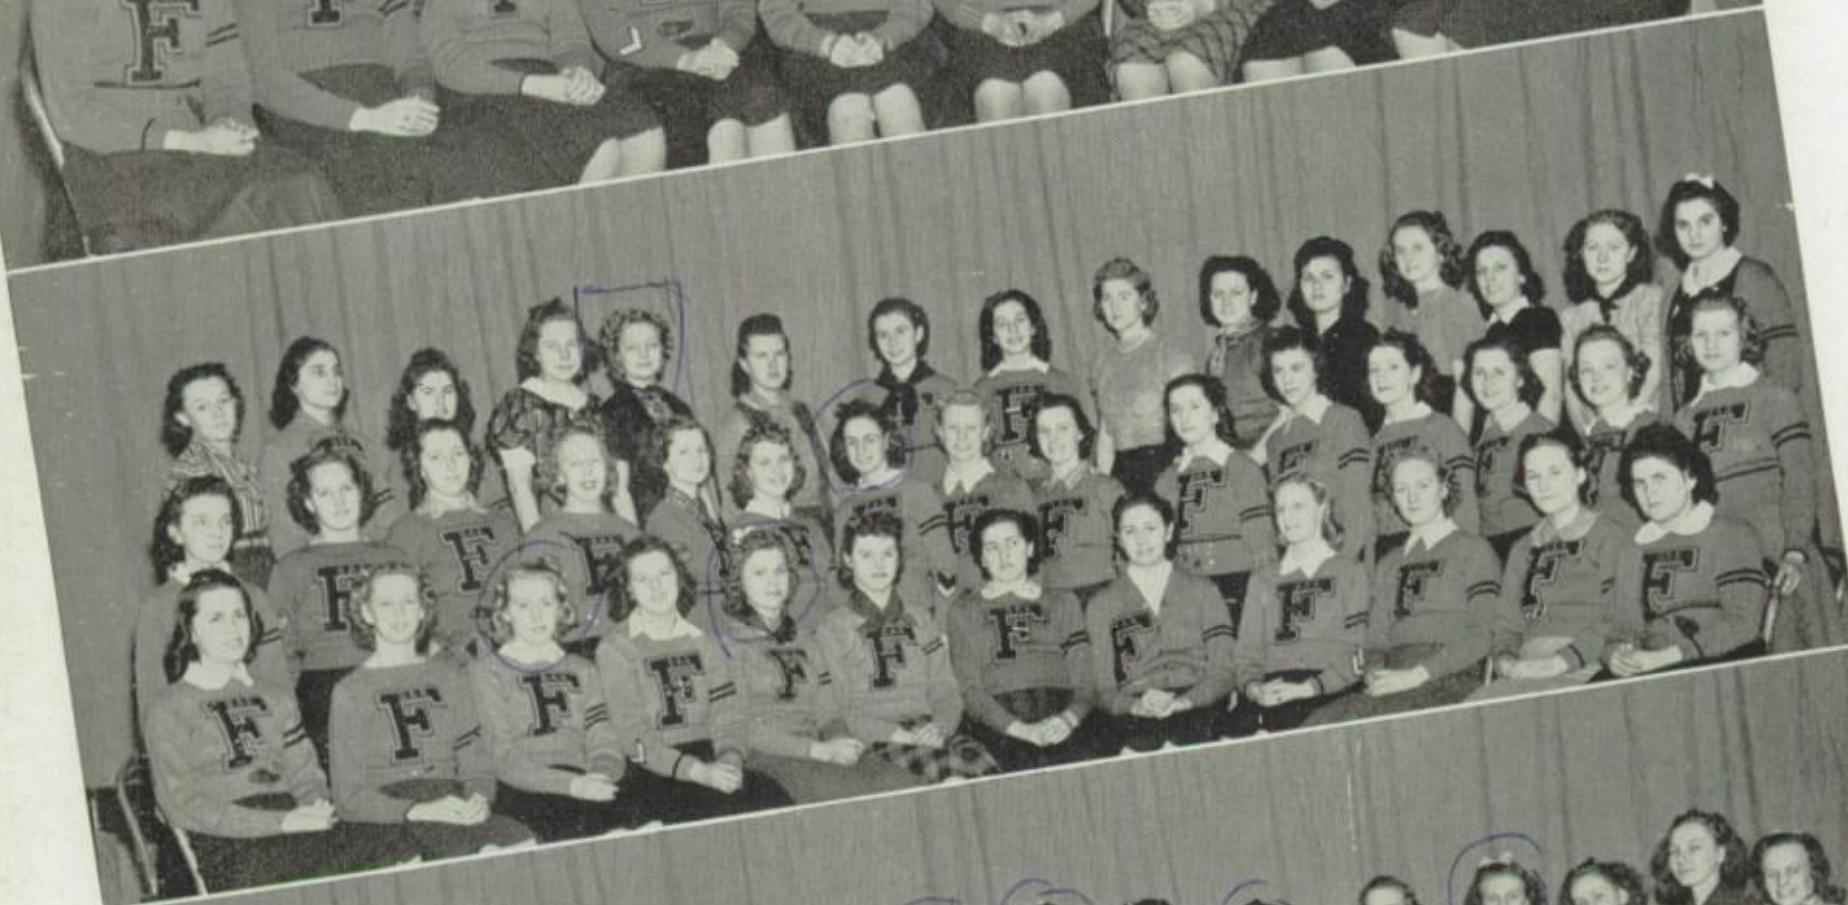

The development of endurance is perhaps more important in modern life than great physical strength. A well-planned intramural program which furnishes opportunities for natural competitive activity and team membership is a feature at Foreman. There are at least three team games tournaments during the school year. Every girl in the physical education classes is scheduled to play in at least one game of each tournament. In addition to these organized games there is an individual tournament running concurrently. Girls enter into the recreational games of their choice. Intramural games afford many students extra time for enjoying health-maintaining, morbidity-destroying activities.

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Training for leadership and service plays a very important part in the physical educa-tion program. Seventy-five students are appointed each semester to act as students' assistants. The assistants are selected on the basis of special ability, initiative, resourceful-ness and responsibility. This group is assigned as student leaders, locker-room guards, secretaries and life savers. Points awarded for service may be counted toward the school letter awarded by the G.A.A. or toward the school monogram.

THE HORNETS

Foreman's Hornets stung, and were stung, but they always fought with that same determination and doggedness that made them popular with the student body. Under the expert guidance of Coach Zahorik, affectionately known to his prodigies as "Zeke", the team has reached new heights. Within the next few years the team should make a strong bid for the city championship.
